The President and his Successor

The Republicans of Massachusetts in State Convention on the 11th of March were addressed by their Chairman, Hon. D. W. Gooch, formerly a Representative in Congress [illegible] speech from which we extract the [illegible] paragraphs. The story of [illegible] is admirably told [illegible] the civil services [illegible] of the other will be read with the liveliest interest. Mr Gooch said

Within thirty days after Abraham Lincoln entered upon his second term of office [illegible] fell in the [illegible] were flying before the victorious Grant and the rebel [illegible] were ready to acknowledge that all was lost in [illegible] the government which they had attempted to establish but the principles on which that Government was to rest and that nothing remained for them but to accept the situation. At that time all loyal men felt that the hour of danger was passed and that all questions for the future could be safely entrusted to the President and to Congress of whose wise and harmonious action there [illegible] no doubt. But the dealings of Providence with nations as with individuals are often mysterious. While loyal men were thus resting filled with hope for the future and reposing full confidence in that great and good man who had led the nation successfully through its great struggle the assassin's bullet opened the way for the accession of Andrew Johnson. Although this man who would never [illegible] been thought of for the Presidency [illegible] himself at the late inauguration still as he promised to do all things for the public good the people freely forgave what they thought might have been the accident of an hour and generously gave him their confidence and support. For a short time he seemed to merit such confidence and to take counsel from the loyal men in whom the people had long confided. But it soon became apparent to those who watched closely the doings at the capital during the summer and autumn of 1865 that the rebels and their sympathizers were readily admitted and long detained in the President's reception room while loyal men were kept long in waiting or even asked in vain for admission. It soon became clear that he intended to take into his own hands the whole great question of reconstruction. And without regard to the plainly expressed wishes of loyal men, and without waiting for or giving an opportunity to Congress to take any action thereon he determined, through the instrumentality of Provisional Governments—which he had no more right to establish than he had to establish monarchies—to organize governments in those States and have their Senators and Representatives at the doors of Congress demanding admission when it should again assemble. He even flattered himself that his object was accomplished, and when Congress met coolly informed the Senate and House of Representatives in his Annual Message that it only remained for them to judge of the election returns and qualifications of the members from the States, which he had called into existence during the recess. He had not deprived them of that power, but all the rest he had settled according to his own good will and pleasure. The Senators and Representatives who dared to call in question his right thus to do he immediately denounced by name in his speeches and harangues as traitors to the Government and the rebels and sycophants whom he had called about him shouted their applause. When the Thirty-ninth Congress expired these States were in arms against the Government. When the Fortieth Congress assembled at the earliest day at which it could assemble without a call by the President they found that Andrew Johnson, the man who had become President during the recess, had assumed to organize Governments in these States and settle all the great questions at issue between the National Government and the Rebels. As I look back on this usurpation on the part of the Executive, it almost seems that Congress was wanting in self respect in not instituting proceedings for his immediate impeachment. But the questions at issue were of such vital importance that Congress felt called upon to make every effort to avoid a conflict between the different departments of the Goverment.

The Convention to which the delegates you select here to-day are to be sent will nominate as candidate for President Gen Grant. (Applause.) It will nominate him because he represents the principles of the Republican party and because he can render to his country in that office better service than any other living man. The fame which he carried in the field has been heightened by the bold straightforward and judicious manner in which he has performed every duty which has devolved upon him in the trying and difficult positions in which he has been placed since the close of the war. In every position he has sought only his country's good, regardless of consequences to himself. He has met and defeated rebel strategy in the Cabinet no less successfully than he did in the field. I hardly know for which we are most indebted to him his services during the war or his services since the war. I tremble when I reflect what might have been the consequences had some other man held his position during the trials through which the Government is now passing, and through which it has been called upon to pass since the death of Abraham Lincoln. I [illegible] in April last immediately after the adjournment of the first session of the present Congress I called on General Grant at his office in Washington. He had that morning been informed of the questions proposed to be raised by the President and the Attorney General in relation to the Reconstruction act then just passed. After stating them he remarked "Congress ought not to have adjourned without some provision by which it could assemble at any time" and also added "they have passed laws by which ten States are to be reconstructed and it is reasonable to suppose that some further legislation may be necessary." I then said to him "Perhaps this is not the first time we have suffered [illegible] Congress was not in session when it ought to have been." He asked to what I referred. I replied "There should have been a session of Congress immediately after the overthrow of the rebel armies." He [illegible] and added further "if there had been it is possible that the present conflict between the Executive and Congress might have been avoided." After a moment's reflection he replied "On the whole I think it better as it is. If it had not been for this conflict it is possible that reconstruction might have been accomplished without securing negro suffrage." I felt then that he fully recognized the fact that the war had established [illegible] the power of the Government to maintain its own existence, but also the equality of the rights and privileges of all men under it.

DEATH OF A MISER.—Hetor Hendrickson a German junk dealer in New York was found dead in his room recently. The room presented a most wretched filthy aspect, and everything demonstrated that the occupant was a miser. A wisp of straw had served for a bed and the filthy floor for a table. Grand Army of the Republic

[From the Irish Republic.]

Of the Grand Army as an organization we know nothing not being members, and the society being sensible enough to keep its internal arrangements hid from the public [illegible]. We do not know that it is composed of some hundreds of thousands of the men who, when the Republic was in danger, flew to its assistance. This knowledge is enough to satisfy us that the Grand Army of the Republic is an organization that no man, who loves liberty need question its patriotism

We were under the impression that the organization was but a continuation of the Grand Army that marched and [illegible] under Grant and Sherman, and that traced its name in letters of fire from Shiloh to the Wilderness and that some far-seeing men had reorganized after the great muster-out at the supposed suppression of the rebellion [illegible] that consummation has not been [illegible] to be held in readiness if any sudden danger should threaten the Republic. Oh, that [illegible] economical mistake of disbanding the [illegible] Army of the Republic when Lee surrendered. Penny wise and pound foolish. Had the army been retained and distributed over the Southern States until they were all in [illegible] ranks in the Union again would it not have cost less in the end?

It was but natural to think that the re-organization of the Grand Army of the Republic had a political signification. For years its members had fought for the preservation of the Republic buried almost half a million of [illegible] that liberty might not be extinguished, and we looked upon the present army as the remnant of the bronzed and battle scarred veterans of the old army, encamped in the [illegible] of their families with their rifles shining over the mantles—in fact a civic army sleeping on its arms waiting for the call of the Republic. What more glorious object could they have? Who had a better right to watch in peace and guard the country whose preservation cost them so much?

Now that we are informed that in addition to standing to arms at their country's call, they guard and tend and comfort the [illegible] and children of their dead comrades we take off our hats with reverent admiration to this great body of men

It is a melancholy fact that [illegible] forget the men who die for their [illegible] In none other is this disgraceful fact [illegible] palpable than in this Republic. The [illegible] armed or one-legged veteran is [illegible] in our streets as unceremoniously as if he had lost an arm or a leg in some drunken brawl or railroad smash up. The very men who fought to destroy the hopes of the world are as much respected and far more by those who denounce the Grand Army [illegible] who limp along our streets in ragged blue. Is it not humiliating and demoralizing to [illegible] to permit it defenders who have become invalided in her service, to beg as too many poor soldiers are forced to do? If [illegible] and crippled men, who stand in the [illegible] of the people for whom they fought, are so rudely jarred and their services forgotten, how must it be with the wives and children of the men who are sleeping on the [illegible]

God bless the Grand Army of the Republic who have not forgotten the children of their dead comrades. Their work is glorious and from the [illegible] hearts of many a [illegible] household, God is listening to prayers of gratitude for their success. The cry of the widows and orphans are drowned in the [illegible] ble of the heartless world but the fine ear of "the Grand Army" can hear the dying [illegible] of their comrades rising above the roar of commerce, "protect our children."

Why will such an organization [illegible] If quasi-loyal journals cry [illegible] assured that the loyal people of A[illegible] that the men who saved their country in war will not destroy it in peace. Indeed, while this "Grand Army" retains its Organization and discipline, and preserves that spirit that lit it through the wilderness, it is not in the power of traitors to destroy the Republic.

Oh but these fellows are dangerous," cry some confederate sympathizers. They are dangerous and the enemies of liberty [illegible] it. It is this knowledge that [illegible] pause in their second attempt at the destruction of the nation. Every man whose heart is loyal to Republicanism feels safe, knowing that four hundred thousand of the "G[illegible] Army" are ready to march again at the call of liberty. We say then God speed "The Grand Army," long may it be the [illegible] of the Republic and the terror of those who would destroy the hopes of humanity.

WHAT MAKES A CITY GROW.—The Philadelphia Bulletin has a very suggestive article on the causes which make a city grow. There are many causes that are beyond the control of the citizens, such as natural [illegible], advantages of situation, communication or production, but it is contended that the character which the inhabitants give to a city has vastly more to do with its growth than all other causes put together. In other words, the public spirit of the citizens determines the growth of a city. A city attracts population when it is free from debt, and living therefore comparatively cheap, and when, from its many opportunities for instruction, rational amusements and healthful [illegible] tions it becomes a desirable place to live in. There is a constant tendency [illegible] who have acquired a competency in this country to drift towards the cities, and especially to the cities which furnish the most facilities for living a cultivated and pleasant life. In this view it is seen that the public spirit which invests with fine churches, parks, rational and fine amusements, public schools, art galleries, concert halls, public libraries, etc., is in reality a most common sense business spirit. The more public improvements of this sort we have the more certainly we will draw to our city an increase of permanent residents. Money invested in [illegible] prises will soon be amply repaid in the rapid growth of the city, and the growth of the city means the prosperity of the inhabitants.

Advices respecting the Arkansas election say that the District Commander extended the time for holding the election several days in consequence of severe storms and high water, which prevented voters from reaching the polls. One half of the radical vote was cast by white men. In the more thickly populated negro counties intimidations were successfully used to prevent the voting of negroes. In one place rebels attacked the polls and forced colored voters to vote against the Convention under threats of killing them if they did not comply. During the melee several negroes were wounded.

THE SUEZ CANAL.—The directors are pushing this enterprise with great vigor, and declare that it will be finished next year. [illegible] January 137 barges of merchandise passed through it from one sea to the other and the receipts in 1867 amounted to 1,292,822 francs. The English Abyssinian expedition gives the canal a good deal of business.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says of Chief Justice Chase: "He is known to have said that the most ardent desire of his life was to see the Southern States restored to their normal relations to the Union, under the reconstruction policy of Congress."

Twelve counties in Missouri through which the main line of railway to the West runs are reported to have increased their valuation more than $136,000,000 since the roads were built. Ten counties without roads have fallen off since 1860.

Justice to the North.

It is notorious that the "Democratic" party oppose every plan of reconstruction which will not give the South an advantage of representation in Congress and in the Electoral College over the Union majority of the North. If all the States were represented in Congress, the number of Representatives under the apportionment based on the census of 1860 would be 243. At present there are 193 Representatives in Congress. Fifty are to be admitted on the restoration of the late rebel States. If representation is fixed on a white basis, as the proposed fourteenth amendment to the Constitution provides it may be, the number of Representatives to which the Northern States will be entitled will be 173, while the Southern or late slave States will have 70. But if reconstruction is effected on the basis demanded by the "Democratic" party, the Northern States will have 140 Representatives, and the late slave States will have 103. The Northern States, according to the last census, have a white population of 18,653,776 and the late slave States, according to the same census, have a white population of 8,036,700. Thus on the "Democratic" policy, the South, with less than one-third the white population of the Union, would have almost half the Representatives in Congress. The colored population of the late Slave States is 4,201,298. The aggregate population of the United States is 31,148,04[illegible]. Dividing this number by 243, the aggregate number of Representatives, and we would have one Representative for every 128,000 inhabitants. Dividing the colored population of the South by this representative ratio, and we find that the late Slave States would get 33 representatives based on this population, who, under the Democratic-rebel programme are to be denied every right whatever, while the rebel whites do the voting for them and use this enormous power in Congress and in the Electoral College to rule the Union voters of the North. We have presented the figures, and every one can see for himself how this "Democratic" plan would work. If the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution is adopted and reconstruction effected upon that basis, justice will be done to the Northern States in the matter of representation. If it is not thought best to allow the Southern black the continued use of the suffrage, so be it; this amendment provides for their exclusion from the ballot box. But it also provides that the [illegible] of the South shall not cast one vote for himself and one for the negro. To put it differently, if the Southern States want representation for their black population, they must allow them the ballot; if they do not want representation for that population, they may withhold the ballot from them. The same rule applies to the Northern States; but the [illegible] handful of negroes in the North amount to nothing in the enumeration of the [illegible] for the purposes of representation. If the people of the country want a "white man's government" let them have it. And we are for a white man's government to this extent, that we do not wish to see the rebel whites of the South using the black population of their States for the purpose of sending thirty-three additional members to Congress, and of throwing thirty-three additional votes in Presidential elections, while that population is denied every right in the Government and under the laws. The blacks are good enough to vote if they are good enough to be used as a means for increasing the power of the late rebels in the Government. Let the people look at this matter. Shall the Southern States have this enormous advantage over the North? What consistent advocates are they of a "white man's government" who insist on having this vast power in Congress founded on the "nigger?" Now is the time to settle this matter. And the only way to settle it justly is to settle it on the principles proposed by the Union party. The fourteenth amendment to the Constitution which is the basis of the Congressional plan of reconstruction, offers a solution of this question, and the only solution which is equitable and right.

Democratic orators have a great deal to say about "establishing a military despotism" "changing the form of government," "ruling by force" and similar charges. In this they are but feeble copies of their great original, Jeff. Davis, who rising in his place in the Senate on the 10th of January, 1861, after Major Anderson had transferred his small handful of soldiers from Fort Moultrie to Fort Sumter, said:

> "Senators, we are rapidly drifting into a position in which this is to become a government of the army and navy; in which the authority of the United States is to be maintained, not by law, not by constitutional agreement between the States, but by physical force; and will you stand still and see this policy consummated? Will you fold your arms * * and permit this Government imperceptibly to slide from the moorings where it was originally anchored, and become a military despotism?"

The action against which Davis so vehemently protested was that the United States Government had taken some feeble measures to protect the forts and public property from falling into the hands of the rebels. To-day the followers of Davis profess to be dreadfully alarmed because the Government affords protection to loyal white and black men in the rebel States.

The New York Leader, which is a recognized and influential Democratic organ—by which we mean a thing played upon by those whose interest it is to have certain tunes played, according to circumstances—has put up the names of Horatio Seymour for President and Senator Hendricks for Vice President. The significance of this will be better understood when it is known that the Leader is largely under the control of August Belmont and is the confidential organ of Tammany Hall.

The New York Tribune calls the Hartford Times "the premium liar of New England." Hope Berias Brown, who claims New England nativity, won't be jealous.

The "Time Honored Principles" Interpreted.

In 1861, Joseph Lane, a Democratic Senator from Oregon, said in a speech in a Senate of the United States that to be consistent with all his past professions as a Democrat, he was forced to proclaim the right of a State to secede from the Union. He quoted from the "time honored principles" that a State aggrieved has a right to judge of the mode and measure of redress, and argued that the measure of redress might extend to secession. Here is a choice extract from his speech:

> As to the argument founded on the purchase of Louisiana, Florida, California, and the cession of the ground on which the Federal forts stand—that secession cannot be resorted to or applicable to them—the simple answer is that the right of secession being fundamental and paramount, all those Territories and sites of forts have been acquired subject to that right and must abide by it.

This is an interpretation of the "time honored principles" which the "Democratic" platform of this State, adopted less than two months ago, declares for. No Democrat denies or has ever denied the correctness of this interpretation. Fellow-citizens of Oregon, do you believe the Union can be maintained on "Democratic" principles? Let us see what George H. Pendleton, their declared candidate for President, has to say about this matter:

> Sir, the enforcement of your laws within a seceding State in opposition to its will, is coercion of that State, and coercion by armed force is war. If these Southern States cannot be conciliated, if they must leave the family mansion, I would signalize their departure by tokens of love; I would bid them farewell so tenderly that they would forever be touched by the recollection of it. If your differences are so great that you cannot or will not reconcile them, then let the seceding States depart in peace; let them establish their Government and empire and work out their destiny according to the wisdom God has given them.

These, let it be forever remembered, are "Democratic" principles. And the man who uttered them has been endorsed by the "Democratic" party of Oregon and many other States as their candidate for President in November. Who will have the temerity to assert that the principles of this party are not the principles of Disunion?

"The South must Rule."

But for the support which the "Democracy" gave to slavery, there would never have been any rebellion. By the aid of Northern men whom they despised as Yankees and mudsills, the slaveholders of the South governed the country for years, and when they saw power passing from them then they rebelled. The restoration of Democratic rule to-day would restore the Southerners to power. We have yet to see the first thoroughgoing Democrat who does not consider the Southerner as much his superior as he considers the negro his inferior.

Here is what J. C. Prewett, editor of the Yazoo (Miss.) Banner, writes to a relative in New York:

> "And so you don't like my politics. Why, you'll see in a short time that I am right. Radical niggerism must go overboard, and the South will again ride the country. We governed for forty or fifty years in power and glory, and when the North wrested the government from us, we broke up the Union. Your heavy armies and big guns whipped us back, and now we will soon have control of the country again, and crowd the Yankees out in the cold. The Southern people were intended to govern and furnish the valor and intelligence, while the Yankee built up commerce and manufactures. The Yankee has tried governing for six or seven years, and look what a sad spectacle we have presented."

"Democracy" in 1864.

[From Beriah Brown's paper, Oct. 27, 1864.]

Lincoln mingles indecent jokes with the most serious affairs of State, and with clownish ribaldry assails the most sacred rights of man, committing heartless acts of tyranny and oppression without regard to age, sex or condition; he combines the head of a mountebank with the heart of a despot.

[From the same, Nov. 30, 1864.]

All previous usurpers and tyrants have been men of military genius, of commanding powers of mind, or of educational accomplishments. Never before has a great nation bowed down to the despotism of an illiterate boor, deficient alike in the graces of person, of mind and of manners.

While the people are bearing the burden of taxation, it cannot be forgotten to whom they are indebted therefor. Secession was nursed under a Democratic Administration. Old Buchanan sat in Washington like a poultice, and drew the rebellion to a head. Northern Democrats know no "constitutional" way to save the country from going to pieces. By their sympathy with rebellion and opposition to the Government they prolonged the war and rolled up the great debt which the people are compelled now to pay. This record should be remembered. A Union Congress is doing what it can to diminish taxation and reduce expenses. The people should sustain its action.

The "Democratic" papers denounce every Irish born citizen who votes the Union ticket as a "renegade." We will not say, for we do not believe that every Irishman who votes the so-called Democratic ticket is a renegade; but we do say that no Irishman who, having found liberty on this continent, affiliates with the party that has been false both to liberty and country, is following the principles that Grattan, Curran and O'Connell held and promulgated. The time is not distant when Irishmen will remember O'Connell's opinion of the party that dared to call itself Democratic, while upholding the slavery that he denounced in such burning words.

Where are the "Resolutions of '98," and why do not the "Democracy" expound and advocate them? They are the "time-honored principles," the Democratic book of rebellion; yet their orators and newspapers are completely mum about them. Let the people hear whether the "Democratic party still think that each State has a right to judge of its grievances and the "mode and measure of redress;"—or in other words, whether a State still has a right to secede, as that party once declared.

The San Francisco Times of the 30th ult., says: "Last night the standard-bearers of the Democracy appeared in very different roles. H. H. Haight, candidate of the unterrified for President of the United States, toasted "our honored guests," the Chinese mandarins, at the Lick House, while S. B. Axtell held forth to the Anti-Coolie men at Terpsichore Hall. Could anything better illustrate the adaptability of Democratic principles?"

Bear in mind that the advocates of Andrew Johnson's perfidy and violation of law are the very men who sympathized with the rebellion and prayed for its success. They justified secession, opposed the draft, denounced the currency, applauded the New York riots, gloried over the defeats, and mourned over the victories of the Union army. Can the American people forget such a record as this?

The Copperheads of this State are fighting the battle under false pretences and hiding the real issues at stake. Smith will not define his position in respect to the "time-honored principles," or say whether he approves or disapproves of the doctrines his party held in 1861. Not a word can be got out of him on the great questions which involve the perpetuity of the Union.

The "Democracy" are puzzled to find a Presidential candidate. None of their men aspire to the honor of being whipped by Grant. They are in a quandary. Let them take James Buchanan—he's just the man for them, a fit exponent of the party, and it wouldn't interfere with his agricultural pursuits a bit. He's a first-rate man—to be whipped. Take him.

The Westminster Review says that "Vanity Fair" is perhaps the only novel, with the exception of "Romola," which is likely to endure as long as the English language.

The London Times advertises: "For invalid, hard worked and young clergymen, six hundred manuscript sermons."

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—A number of contractors met last night to adopt measures for their own protection and passed the following resolution: That ten hours should constitute a days work for men in our employ, and that the following scale of prices be adopted as a standard: Men to be paid 20 cents an hour monthly men to be paid 12½ cents per hour and that 40 cents per hour be paid for man, horse and cart.

A number of laborers struck this morning, and gangs of them are going about the city endeavoring to coerce other laborers into joining them. Patrolmen were appointed by the police department, and thus far there has been no serious disturbance.

About 12 o'clock last night, Engine Co. No. 2 undertook to pump out a cistern at the corner of Bush and Montgomery streets which had been closed up for some time. J. J. Kelly, Foreman of No. 2, lowered a lantern into the cistern, when a terrific explosion ensued, which severely burned several persons who were standing about the cistern and shook the ground like an earthquake. It is supposed that the cistern was full of gas which had leaked from the gas pipes.

Wheat—Sales include 1,200 sks choice at $2 20; 1,500 sks good Oregon at $2 10. We quote the range for fair to strictly choice at $2 10@2 20, a further decline of 5c since yesterday.

Barley—The market is very firm at $1 50 for choice, and an advance on this figure is not improbable. Sale of 200 sks good at $1 50. We give the extremes of the market at $1 40@1 50, with a hardening tendency.

Oats—Sales include 1,600 sks choice, private; 400 do good, $2 25. Sales of Oregon have been made as low as $2. The range of the market is about $2 10@2 40, the latter figure for choice from store.

Shipping.

Sailed—Barkentine W. H. Gawley, Port Townsend; bark Iconium, Seattle; bark Gold Hunter, Port Madison; brig Brewster, Portland.

Arrived—Bark Florence, Seabeck.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, May 8.—The steamer Douglas, from Nanaimo, arrived last night. The miners at that place have made a general strike for higher wages, in consequence of which the works are closed.

The ship Isaac Jeans was lying in harbor unable to obtain a cargo. Nearly five thousand tons of coal were shipped during April. The Isaac Jeans, on her way to Nanaimo, got on a reef of rocks, but after a slight detention, she reached that place without sustaining any injury.

The H. B. Company's steamer Otter sailed yesterday for Tongas.

Ancient Rights.

In the Dred Scott decision, (page 12), we have these words: "Every person and every class and description of persons, who were at the time of the adoption of the Constitution recognized as citizens of the several States, became also citizens of the new political body." A few facts will show that negroes were then citizens.

1st. There were free colored people in the country before the revolution.

2d. Judge Tucker, of Virginia, says: "During the revolutionary war many of them were enlisted as soldiers in the regular army. Even slaves were not rejected from military service at that period; and such as served faithfully during the period of their enlistment were emancipated by an act passed after the conclusion of the war."

3d. The 4th article of Confederation says: "The free inhabitants of each of these States, paupers, vagabonds and fugitives from justice excepted, shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of free citizens of the several States."

4th. "The delegates from South Carolina moved to amend this article by inserting after the word 'free' and before the word 'inhabitant' the word 'white,' so that the privileges and immunities of general citizenship would be secured only to white persons. Two States voted for the amendment, eight against it, and the vote of one was divided." [Dred Scott Decision, page 181.]

5th. That the Articles of Confederation were considered binding is evident from the action of Virginia as to citizenship in 1782, when a law restricting it to white persons was repealed and one without such restrictions was enacted. See a speech by Senator Baldwin, of Connecticut delivered in 1850. He quotes from the statutes of Virginia as follows: "All free persons born within the territory of this commonwealth, all persons not being native who have obtained a right to citizenship under former laws, and also all children wherever born, whose parents were citizens at the time of the birth of such children, shall be deemed citizens of this commonwealth."

Thus it appears that the Civil Rights bill and the 14th amendment of the Constitution confer no new rights upon the negro, because he had all the rights which they enumerate before, even when the government went into operation.

YAMHILL.

The Newark (N. J.) Courier says Mr. Colfax will have the vote of that State for the Vice Presidency, and it is of the opinion that a stronger ticket than Grant and Colfax could not be nominated. The Courier says:

> As it seems to us, there would be a peculiar propriety in New Jersey giving her vote to Mr. Colfax in the National Convention. It was here that his ancestors lived and are buried; here that his own thoughts have always turned, with more or less reverence, in all his later life. In indorsing him, the State would do the next thing to indorsing one of her own citizens, and one who is in the largest sense worthy of her confidence and support.

NO INDEED.—Axtell, Congressman from San Francisco, is giving his party an immense deal of trouble. The Mariposa Mail says:

> We must repudiate and utterly condemn his assumption that the Democratic party of the North ever sanctioned the war for the abolition of slavery, and his declaration that the Democracy claim and are entitled to any credit for the result of the war. The assumption is false to history, and repugnant to every sentiment of Democracy.

Do you hear that, you who claim that Democracy saved the country from the fangs of treason?

The Mansfield (Ohio) Herald says that a man named Jordan, living near Loudonville, drank a pint of whiskey and pepper one day recently, to break an attack of fever and ague, with which he was troubled. The fever was "broken," but its sudden stopping killed the man.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.—We clip the following from the Register, received last evening: Company D, 1st U. S. Cavalry, en route from Drum Barracks to Fort Lapwai, and a detachment of recruits for the 23d Infantry, arrived here on Thursday evening. We attended the ball given by the Washington Base Ball Club, at the Fire Hall on the evening of the 1st of May, and it affords us much pleasure to pronounce it a success in every sense of the word.—Fonsta, the interesting little daughter of Mrs. G. J. White, was seriously injured on Tuesday by a fall from a swing. Mr. Geo. Grimme was elected Foreman of Gen. Allen Engine Co. No. 3, at their late regular meeting, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Geo. T. Hodges. Harry Woods of this city has a cow which gave birth to a calf on the 24th day of April and another on the 6th day of May—Harry is looking anxiously for the 16th, calculating on further additions to his stock. At a special meeting of Vigilance H. & L. Co. No. 1, held at the Council chamber, on Thursday evening, May 7th, 1868, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, At an alarm of fire on the evening of May 4th, 1868, Daniel P. Healy, an ex-member of this Company, met with an accident which resulted in death.

Resolved, That this Company deeply lament said accident, and hereby tender their sympathies to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That an invitation be and hereby is extended to all members of the Fire Department of the city of Vancouver to join with us in paying due respect to the memory of the dead.

TRYING TO GET SCARED.—The Victoria Colonist of the 4th [illegible] found out that Col. Welsh, a noted Fenian is in San Francisco, and thereupon tries to get into a scare, as follows: "This notorious Fenian arrived in San Francisco by a late steamer from the East. Welsh was [illegible] concerned in the murderous designs of Mackay and [illegible] upon the police in Cork, but made his escape from Ireland. In San Francisco he was serenaded by a [illegible] of people imbued with similar principles, on which occasion he made a speech of the most violent [illegible]. He also inquired particularly about the strength of the navy here, seeming astonished that the [illegible] was with us." This reminds us forcibly of the little girl who adopted the plan of scaring herself [illegible] into bed by undressing and then saying "rats" [illegible] she was in bed in a twinkling and covered up, head and ears.

THE CIRCUS.—Mr. Bartholomew's Great Western Circus will perform for the last time in Portland this evening. Those who delight in equestrianism and fun should go [illegible]. It is a thing wonderful to see how [illegible] Mr. Bartholomew has trained his horses and [illegible]. They really seem to understand almost everything but talking. The sensation piece "Turpin's ride to York," together with new acts, fresh jokes, etc., will be presented to-night. Franklin will perform his daring act of a backward somersault on a bare back horse at full speed. Gen. Sidas, the pigmy performer, Charley Graham, Shakesperian Jester, Bartholomew and all the rest will be out in their strongest suit, and the audience [illegible] confidently expect a first rate performance. The company will shortly leave for a tour through Oregon and California, with Mr. J. A. Dodge as advance agent.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon a most [illegible] accident occurred to Charley, a little boy of Capt. C. C. Dall, of the steamship Continental. He was about to shoot at a bird with a pistol, when by some unfortunate movement, he fired the piece prematurely, the charge going through his right hand, making a shocking wound and severing the second finger above the third joint. He was immediately taken to the office of Dr. [illegible], who dressed the wound in such manner as to leave, if no accident occur, the ultimate use of the hand with three fingers. After taking away the shattered bones of the hand, the severed parts were brought [illegible] and neatly sewed up so that the first, third and fourth fingers will constitute a hand with scarcely the appearance of mutilation, provided the healing process shall go on well.

POPULATION OF THE PACIFIC COAST.—The tide of emigration now setting toward this coast is unprecedented since 1852. The papers of the western territories are constantly mentioning the movement of trains from all the great points of departure on the borders of the plains, and the numbers coming by steamer are so large as to excite [illegible] comment in both the east and the west. The Golden City [illegible] arrived at San Francisco on the 1st inst., with 1,000 passengers, 820 of whom came in second cabin and steerage, indicating that they are men of small means, probably laborers who have taken advantage of [illegible] cheap fares to seek employment on the Pacific coast.

[illegible]—We find the following in the Alta California of the 1st, and we clip it as one of the most re[illegible] [illegible] ever made by a California newspaper [illegible] any product of Oregon: "Flour—Market [illegible] for city Brands ranging from $7 25@[illegible] for extra in hlf and qr sks. Imperial (Oregon) [illegible] at $7 25, at which price, considering the dull [illegible] of the trade, free sales are made. We may also [illegible] that advices from New York and Boston indicate that the latter brand is in good favor, and sells at [illegible] top prices obtained [illegible]."

[illegible] TO NEW YORK.—The Oregonian, the splendid and fast [illegible] steamship belonging to the North American Steamship Co., will sail from San Francisco on [illegible], May 20th, carrying passengers for New York via Panama. She will connect at Panama with the Golden Star. This line of steamships has materially [illegible] the cost of traveling and is entitled to a liberal patronage. No company has better steamers nor can any [illegible] put passengers through in quicker time.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The following matters of business were disposed of by the Commissioners, yesterday: [illegible], convicted of assault and battery, gave bonds [illegible] payment of his fine, and was, by order of the [illegible], discharged. [illegible] Bardiso was sent to the hospital at his own re[illegible]. The [illegible] of the session was devoted to auditing ac-[illegible]

[illegible] GROWLER.—The sad news of the loss of [illegible] Growler seems to be fully confirmed by all the reports from the North. The Colonist mentions as [illegible] that, "The [illegible] brought down by Capt. Lewis has been identified as that of Mr [illegible] of the schooner Growler." The breast-[illegible] among the natives who said they took it off the dead bodies from the wreck.

[illegible] CREW.—The bark Rainier has been very [illegible] of being abandoned by her [illegible] shortly after her arrival. Longshoremen were [illegible] and probably will continue in service until her [illegible] he got on board. Captain Hayden re[illegible] to the exorbitant demands of the seamen [illegible] port, and will take the chances of procuring a [illegible] when the bark gets ready for sea.

[illegible] PRODUCTS.—Arrived yesterday, per steamer [illegible], 443 boxes apples, 30 cases and 53 gunnies bacon, 8 kegs beer, 1 bale furs, 10 cases lard, 7 boxes eggs, 25 tons pig iron, 2 rolls leather, 57 sacks oats, 47 hf bbls dried apples. Per steamer Wenat 135 boxes apples, 816 [illegible] 15 gunnies bacon, 6 hf bbls dried apples. [illegible], 40 tons wheat, 100 sks bran, 604 qr sks flour, and 25 tons pig iron.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.—The annual meeting of the Oregon [illegible] connected with the Congregational Church [illegible] held in this city on Wednesday, May 13th, at 1 [illegible] P. M.

The [illegible]th Anniversary meeting of the Oregon [illegible] will be held at the Congregational Church [illegible], May 13th, at half past ten [illegible] A. M.

[illegible]'S CONVENTION.—We learn that a district [illegible] connected with the M. E. Church [illegible] Lafayette on the 4th and 5th days of [illegible]. The Presiding Elder has proposed various [illegible] of a religious nature to be discussed in written [illegible] of the district. The con[illegible] will open at the church at half past eight, A. M., [illegible]

[illegible] COURT—MARQUAM JUDGE.—The following were [illegible], yesterday:

In the matter of the estate of Q. C. Griffith, deceased, [illegible], Administrator; granted till next term of Court to file bonds of surety.

[illegible] of J. R. Lawrence for permission to adopt [illegible] as his own, was granted.

[illegible] FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The bark Delaware will [illegible] down the river to-day and will go to sea the [illegible] moment. The following is a list of the [illegible] her cargo, consigned to John C. Mer[illegible] & Co. San Francisco: 7,287 sks wheat, 10,152 qr sks [illegible], 78 tons iron, 19 hf bbls lard, 10 cases lard, 60 bbls [illegible] hams.

[illegible] COURT—DEADY JUDGE.—The argument [illegible] of the United States vs. Mercer et al, was [illegible] at three o'clock, P. M., and the case was submitted to the jury.

[illegible] vs. Steamship Fideliter, continued till [illegible] term.

[illegible] CALL.—Mr. D. W. Higgins, editor of the [illegible] Colonist, arrived yesterday morning by the [illegible] and during the day, gave us a brief call. Mr [illegible] is on his way to the Eastern States. We con[illegible] him upon his agreeable respite from editorial [illegible] wish him a successful journey.

AFFLICTIVE NEWS.—Mr. J. F. McCoy has just received [illegible] news concerning his son at Idaho City, as to lead to the [illegible] that if not already gone over the dark [illegible] he has but a brief time to live. He has been [illegible] with erysipelas, which has lately assumed [illegible] and dangerous form.

[illegible] A GOVERNOR.—Gov. M. F. Moore of Washington [illegible] arrived here by the steamship Geo. S. Wright [illegible] morning. We learn that he is on his way to the eastern portions of the Territory on business [illegible] with his office as Governor.

[illegible] OF FIRE.—There was an alarm of fire yesterday morning proceeding from the dwelling of J. B. Price, [illegible] of Jefferson and Second streets. The department [illegible] promptly, but the fire was extinguished before the engines reached the place.

IN THE RIVER.—The Geo. S. Wright reports the bark [illegible] and the schooner Crosby, in the river and on the way to this port. The latter is loaded with Nanaimo coal and [illegible] stone, for the Gas Co. and Oswego Iron Works.

FREIGHT RATES FROM UMATILLA.—The following are the [illegible] rates of freight from Umatilla to various points in the interior: To Owyhee, 7c; Idaho City, 6c; Boise City, 4c; Auburn, 3c. Transportation ample.

AGENT OF AN ORPHAN ASYLUM.—Mrs. Norris, an agent of the Tennessee Orphan Asylum, located at Clarksville, Tenn., called on us yesterday. She is soliciting aid for this institution, which she represents is doing much good.

FAILED TO AGREE.—In the U. S. District Court, yesterday, the jury in the case of the United States vs. Mercer et al failed to agree and were discharged at 11 o'clock last night. They stood 9 for and 3 against.

UNION MEETING TO-NIGHT.—Remember that Captain McCormick and Mr. Caples will speak this evening at the Union Club rooms on Washington street.

STEAMBOAT CYLINDERS.—The cylinders for Captain Laughman's new steamer were cast yesterday at the Willamette Iron Works.

THANKS.—We are indebted to Mr. Tarbell, Purser of the Geo. S. Wright, for late copies of Victoria papers.

THE ACTIVE.—The steamship Active may be expected here from Victoria about Monday or Tuesday next.

FREIGHT PER CONTINENTAL.—The steamship brought up 500 tons assorted freight [illegible].

SUMMER STYLES OF HATS FOR LADIES.—Meussdorffer has received a very fine lot of Ladies' and Children's Hats of the latest New York styles, which he offers for sale at very low prices. His assortment of Men's and Boys' Straw and Felt Hats is also larger than ever before seen in Portland.

ALL A MISTAKE.—The report that our fellow townsman, Mr. Wm Currier, has gone to Paris to engage the services of Mons. Baptiste Blenjot, Cutter to the Emperor Napoleon, proves to be unfounded. Mr. Currier visits Paris for the purpose of selecting a stock of French Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, suitable for his own custom trade.

NEW FIRM.—Messrs. R. D. White and F. C. Protzman, have formed a co-partnership, under the firm name of R. D. White & Co., and will carry on the boot and shoe business at No. 131 First street, formerly conducted by R. D. White. They have a very fine assortment of all the latest styles, and we recommend everybody to give them a call.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.

I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3, 1861, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold, it not only makes the plate double as strong and much tougher than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

A THRILLING INCIDENT
In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls in Burmah is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the first high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred [illegible] which none but the high priest dare touch, and then [illegible] set it on one of their gods to rest; all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "God medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.

Rev. J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes: "We use Davis' Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. I. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes: "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." mh1daw1m

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers;
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and put on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

A Child's Dream of a Star

BY CHARLES DICKENS

There was once a child, and he strolled about a good deal, and thought of a number of things. He had a sister, who was a child too, and his constant companion. These two used to wonder all day long. They wondered at the beauty of the flowers; they wondered at the height and blueness of the sky; they wondered at the depth of the bright water; they wondered at the goodness and power of God who made the lovely world.

They used to say to one another, sometimes, Supposing all the children upon earth were to die, would the flowers and the water and the sky be sorry? They believed they would be sorry. For, said they, the buds are the children of the flowers, and the little playful streams that gambol down the hill-sides are the children of the water; and the smallest bright specks playing at hide and seek in the sky all night must surely be the children of the stars; and they would all be grieved to see their playmates, the children of men, no more.

There was one clear shining star that used to come out in the sky before the rest, near the church spire, above the graves. It was larger and more beautiful, they thought, than all the others, and every night they watched for it, standing hand in hand at a window. Whoever saw it first cried out, "I see the star!" And often they cried out both together, knowing so well when it would rise, and where. So they grew to be such friends with it, that before lying down in their beds, they always looked out once again, to bid it good night; and when they were turning round to sleep they used to say, "God bless the star!"

But while she was still very young, oh! very, very young, the sister drooped, and came to be so weak that she could no longer stand in the window at night; and then the child looked sadly out by himself, and when he saw the star, turned round and said to the patient pale face on the bed, "I see the star!" and then a smile would come upon the face, and a little weak voice used to say, "God bless my brother and the star!"

And so the time came all too soon, when the child looked out alone, and when there was no face on the bed, and when there was a little grave among the graves, not there before, and when the star made long rays down toward him, as he saw it through his tears.

Now, these rays were so bright, and they seemed to make such a shining way from earth to Heaven, that when the child went to his solitary bed, he dreamed about the star, and dreamed that, lying where he was, he saw a train of people taken up that sparkling road by angels. And the star, opening, showed him a great world of light, where many more such angels waited to receive them.

All these angels who were waiting turned their beaming eyes upon the people who were carried up into the star, and some came out from the long rows in which they stood, and fell upon the people's necks, and kissed them tenderly, and went away with them down avenues of light, and were so happy in their company, that, lying in his bed, he wept for joy.

But there were many angels who did not go with them, and among them one he knew. The patient face that once had lain upon the bed was glorified and radiant, but his heart found out his sister among all the host.

His sister's angel lingered near the entrance of the star, and said to the leader among those who had brought the people thither:

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "No."

She was turning hopefully away, when the child stretched out his arms, and cried, "O, sister, I am here! Take me!" and then she turned her beaming eyes upon him, and it was night; and the star was shining into the room, making long rays down towards him as he saw it through his tears.

From that hour forth the child looked out upon the star as on the home he was to go to when his time should come, and he thought that he did not belong to the earth alone, but to the star, too, because of his sister's angel gone before.

There was a baby born to be a brother to the child, and while he was so little that he never yet had spoken a word, he stretched his tiny form out on his bed, and died.

Again the child dreamed of the opened star, and of the company of angels, and the train of people, and the rows of angels with their beaming eyes all turned upon those people's faces.

Said his sister's angel to the leader:

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Not that one, but another."

As the child beheld his brother's angel in her arms, he cried, "O, sister, I am here! Take me!" And she turned and smiled upon him, and the star was shining.

He grew to be a young man, and was busy at his books, when an old servant came to him and said:

"Thy mother is no more. I bring her blessing on her darling son."

Again at night he saw the star, and all that former company. Said his sister's angel to the leader:

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Thy mother!"

A mighty cry of joy went forth through all the star, because the mother was re-united to her two children. And he stretched out his arms and cried, "O, mother, sister and brother, I am here! Take me!" And they answered him, "Not yet," and the star was shining.

He grew to be a man, whose hair was turning gray, and he was sitting in his chair by the fireside, heavy with grief, and with his face bedewed with tears, when the star opened once again.

Said his sister's angel to the leader, "Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Nay, but his maiden daughter."

And the man who had been the child saw his daughter, newly lost to him, a celestial creature among those three, and he said: "My daughter's head is on my sister's bosom, and her arm is around my mother's neck, and at her feet there is the baby of old time, and I can bear the parting from her, God be praised!"

And the star was shining.

Thus the child came to be an old man, and his steps were slow and feeble, and his back was bent. And one night, as he lay upon his bed, his children standing round, he cried as he had cried so long ago:

"I see the star!"

They whispered one another, "He is dying."

And he said, "I am. My age is falling from me like a garment, and I move toward the star as a child. And O, my Father, now I thank thee that it has so often opened, to receive those dear ones who await me!"

And the star was shining, and it shines upon his grave.

CAN ANY ONE TELL.—Can any one tell why men who won't pay their small bills, can always find plenty of money to buy liquor and treat when happening among their acquaintances?

Can any one tell how young men who [illegible] and are always behind with their landlords, can play billiards night and day, and are always ready to play poker or seven-up?

Can any one tell how men live and support their families who have no income and do not work, while the industrious and constantly employed half starve?

Can any one tell how it is that a man too poor to pay for a newspaper is able to pay a dollar or two a day for cigars, whisky and tobacco?

Not long ago a young woman arrived in a Kansas town, having escaped from the Cheyenne Indians, by whom she was taken captive twenty-nine years ago when only four years old. During the whole time she kept her knowledge of English by conversation with other captives, though she was obliged to adopt the Indian habits of life. Her brother, captured at the same time, married an Indian squaw and remains with the tribe.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, May 8, 1868.

Gold was quoted in New York 6th [illegible] at 139¾. Legal tenders at San Francisco steady at [illegible] 2c.

The New York wheat market is steady at firm prices, $2 [illegible] 20. Flour has declined a little, but is now steady at $1 [illegible].

The San Francisco breadstuffs market is still dull, with [illegible] downward tendency. The [illegible] Golden City, which sailed on the 6th, took 5,000 barrels of flour for New York [illegible] was Oregon Imperial. The [illegible] sales are [illegible] from $6 25 [illegible] 50. Wheat is quiet at $[illegible]. Oats range from [illegible], the latter an extreme figure for [illegible].

Our local produce market does not yet present any special features [illegible]. The [illegible] and sailing vessels which have loaded at this port for the last month have relieved [illegible] of April. The [illegible] coming in have greatly fallen off within the last two or three weeks, and there is a prospect that will [illegible] our wheat [illegible] will [illegible] early [illegible] the last eight or nine months. Unless [illegible] will improve the greater part of the grain [illegible] all the granaries of the interior will be [illegible] 1868, a dull shipping activity will [illegible] a long prevalent may be said to be fairly at an end for the spring season.

We quote leading brands flour at $6 50 for extra in quarter sacks; other brands $[illegible] 25. Wheat still at [illegible]. Oats are in growing a little [illegible] worth [illegible] 60c, the latter for choice [illegible]. Green apples of [illegible] keeping varieties are quotable at $[illegible] 25, the latter figure an extreme jobbing price for very choice.

The merchandise market is in general fairly active for the season of the year. The time is just between the season for purchasing spring goods and summer goods, and no peculiar activity can, therefore, be expected. Dry goods are a little quiet, though prices are firm, and there is some expectation of an advance in some lines with [illegible]. Groceries have maintained their usual activity. No change to note in quotations. There has been a marked improvement in staple hardware and building material—trade having been larger than for any week during the year.

We quote the following from the Alta of the 1st inst as showing conditions of the market, not telegraphed:

Flour—In addition to the exports of this article to the New York and Boston markets (most of which are [illegible] the case of former shipments, on owners' account) we hear of shipments of Oregon being made by the bark Francis Marie to Australia, and also by the Tasso to Liverpool. There are no news received from New York affecting quotations in that market, whilst prices here are decidedly weaker. We quote city brands, extra, in half and quarter sacks at $7 25@7 62½; Oregon extra and shipping $[illegible] 75 and [illegible] Oregon superfine, $6 75@6 [illegible]. Sales of 500 bbls [illegible] extra in bbls for shipment to New York, private [illegible] quarter sacks superfine, for export to Guatemala, on terms reserved.

Middlings—Owing to receipts of fine from Oregon these descriptions have fallen fully $2 50 per ton, whilst in feed there is no appreciable change. We quote fine at $45 per ton, and feed at $35@40.

Onions—Continue very scarce; quotations at 10½@1[illegible]c.

Tallow—The scarcity which was [illegible] still prevails, and sales have been made to soap factories at [illegible]; we quote the market at [illegible].

Wool—Receipts from the interior which up to the present time have been coming in sparingly, are now arriving more freely and meet with quick sale for export. Sales since last Wednesday aggregate 175,915 lbs of spring, within the range of 14½@16½c, and 8,000 lbs choice [illegible] at private quotable at 20c. A small portion of the spring included in the above report was sold to a local factory at a considerable advance on quotations; but as this was an extra choice parcel we do not report the price obtained, which would not be a fair quotation of the current rates.

Cured Meats—This market, considering late arrivals from Oregon, is well maintained, although prices have not been [illegible] affected, as will be seen by quotations. Business with the interior is gradually improving as communication with up country becomes more practicable. The following are to-day's prices: Hams—California at 17@18c ℔; Oregon 15@16c. Bacon—California at 15@[illegible]c; Oregon 12@13c ℔. Beef—Barrels at 13@18c ℔. Pork—Mess, 21c; prime 17c; extra clear, 23c; shoulders, 9@10c. Lard—At 14@15c ℔.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a specific for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mind, tones the nervous system as well as strengthens the body, and it is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. [illegible] Skin diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of young men, both male and female, are there who suffer from a miserable existence from the effects of indulgence; from virus absorbed in the system. To what a pall of ennui, as sated and disfigured face, or the broken down constitutions, disqualify them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In all such distressing situations, then, [illegible] the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, [illegible] are suffering with any of these horrible destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Dr. Gibbon, who has made private diseases a specialty for years, and who is certain to cure them without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, as well as their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who falsely claim to be [illegible] their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and elsewhere. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a [illegible] effected by his new and scientific mode of treatment, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco [illegible] pretenders who with bogus diplomas and certificates impose the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, a few others places, are bad men, and be one too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinkers, the shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1867 and 1868. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus diplomas, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

INSTITUTE.

⁂ CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES FREE.

⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unlovely a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] but the desire to point out to those who languish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. [illegible] tended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness [illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes [illegible] treatment can tell but its pre[illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the following [illegible]: Weakness of the back and [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, nervous [illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot [illegible] of consumption, short breath, flushings of the [illegible] to society, confusion of the mind, loss of [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless, slight [illegible] least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the [illegible] regular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above, pause [illegible] present is the golden moment in which you [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] who have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse [illegible] slightest excess you have the seeds of weakness [illegible] system, and their undermining influence will [illegible] or later dash the fair edifice of your [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless object [illegible] disease that declares itself at once [illegible] est danger, for while the patient is being [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or [illegible] tions, he sinks into a general debility that [illegible] the list of the victims of the terrible disease [illegible] Weakness.

See in the best form and [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice. Mark the [illegible] active complaint in the hollow cheek and [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind becomes apprehensive and restless nights [illegible] of depression.

It is the nature of the [illegible] charges that leave the poor victim but little hope of [illegible] very. In a single instant it may wither your hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse [illegible] This is an error of the first magnitude, for the [illegible] unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a [illegible] which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] If the marriage should result in offspring, they are [illegible] distorted, decrepid and degenerate. This [illegible] both [illegible] whether married or [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to [illegible] to them, but by instant application [illegible] only hope of health and happiness. The [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH THE [illegible]

[illegible]

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute the number of cases of [illegible] been treated show a record unequaled [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably [illegible] the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Mineral

Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be [illegible] called for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that these [illegible] by entering the blood ruin the [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such treatment [illegible] can give him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or out [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] be: Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] and whose respectable standing in society commends him to the confidence of the [illegible] Doctor, understanding how imperatively [illegible] required, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases [illegible] years, and is fully qualified to administer in all [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice [illegible] both in hospitals and private families—considering them from the hands of the unqualified [illegible] designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them [illegible] in whose [illegible] the utmost confidence can be [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures [illegible] teed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the [illegible] Private apartments are provided when [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and faithful [illegible]

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint will enable him to [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at home. [illegible] have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication [illegible] seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be [illegible] with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or [illegible]
